Overview

The Australian Research Council (ARC) Australian Centre for Excellence in Antarctic Science (ACEAS) will be a national-scale, University-led, international centre focused on the following goal:

To help the world community prepare for climate risks emerging from East Antarctica and the Southern Ocean by integrating knowledge of the ocean, atmosphere, cryosphere and ecosystems, and their interplay.

Visiting Fellowships

ACEAS has a budget to support Visiting Fellowships to facilitate the short-to-long term visit of researchers to ACEAS nodes. ACEAS funds should, in general, be viewed as co-contributions to the visit and institutional and other funds should be sought through leveraging. ACEAS Visiting Fellows will be selected based on their fit with the following criteria:

1. The genuine contribution to ACEAS Program(s) or other objectives of ACEAS, measured in terms of outputs or outcomes.
2. The degree to which more than one ACEAS University benefits from the visit in a tangible way, i.e., not a speaking tour.
3. The distribution of Fellowships, over the lifetime of ACEAS, to a range of genders and career stages, and across all ACEAS participating universities.

Pre-approved funds will be available through reimbursement upon supply of receipts and a claim for payment. Travel and accommodation can be directly booked by the Project Officer if preferred.

Fellowships applications will be assessed quarterly, or more frequently as required, and must be submitted by an ACEAS CI application forms are available from the ACEAS Project Officer. The applicants will be assessed by a sub-committee established by the Management Committee, representing at least three nodes of the Centre, and chaired by the Deputy Director (Partnerships), and recommendations made to the Director.
